

It will interest you to know that A IG John Ahmadu was on his way to Ekiti State to seal a huge contract deal with Governor Kayode Fayemi when he died in the ill-fated Dana Air crash. This much was stated by his wife in a press interview.

Prof Momoh was also one of the witnesses of the ACN candidate, Dr Kayode Fayemi, current Governor of Ekiti state at the election tribunal. He gave evidence as Prosecution Witness 37, alongside one Dr. Azeez Olaniyan, who also disguised as Election Observer during the 2009 rerun election.

Under Cross-Examination, Prof Momoh admitted at the tribunal that;

1. He was once a member of the Board of Governor Fayemi's Non Governmental Organisation, the Centre for Democracy and Development (CDD).
2. He had related closely with Governor Fayemi for over 30 years.
3. That Dr. Azeez Olaniyan provided the vehicle with which he moved around during the election.

It will interest you sir, that the said Dr. Azeez Olaniyan (whose vehicle Prof Momoh used to 'monitor' the election) was later appointed as Caretaker Chairman of Ekiti South-West Local Government Area of Ekiti State by Dr. Kayode Fayemi when he became the State governor via the October 15, 2010 Appeal Court judgment.

Therefore, with such a personality like Prof Momoh now given a prominent position in INEC, his disposition and extent of the compromising capability in any electoral contest, especially the 2014 governorship election in Ekiti and Osun States, involving the opposition parties can better be imagined.

Kindly recall how warnings by a group, the Elections Transparency Group (ETG) was ignored in the past regarding the appointment of one of the current National Commissioners representing the South West, Prof Lai Olorode, who was one of the speech writers of Tinubu.

Recall too that this warning was premised on the reported comment titled; "Masses Will Be Victorious In Osun Guber Case" made by Prof Olurode in Oshogbo, Osun State capital at an annual June 12, 2009 lecture /symposium organized by Committee for Democracy and Rights of the People (CDRP).

Prof Olurode was quoted to have said; "the democratic struggle in Osun State would be positively disposed-off in favour of the progressives (ACN)."

He went further to state that "no matter the antics of the People Democratic Party in the state to manipulate the will of the masses in the state, it would not see the light of the day."